Funeral Rites Tomorrow For William Tilsy

Services for William Harold Tilsy, 19, Homer township, who died Sunday at Panguitch, Utah, from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) from the Schmaedeke funeral home at Orland Park. The Rev. Adolph Lack, pastor of Christ Lutheran church will officiate and interment is to be in Brooks cemetery.

Young Tilsy and Larry Vercellotti, 19, of Lockport, close friends thru their high school careers at Lockport and since, had been on a vacation trip thru the west and were enroute home when the accident occurred.

They were traveling in Tilsy's car. Near Panguitch which is some 250 miles from Salt Lake City, the Tilsy car and one driven by Miss Shirlene Page, 20, of Kansas, Utah, collided head on. The accident occurred last Friday night.

Tilsy, Vercellotti and a passenger in the Page car were taken to the hospital at Panguitch. Miss Page escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vercellotti, parents of Larry, and Mrs. Everett Holm, mother of William, and her husband, who reside in Goodings Grove, Homer township, received messages telling of the accident at 10:30 Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Holm and Mr. Vercellotti left Chicago by plane around 2 o'clock Sunday morning but found connections bad at Salt Lake City and it was 4:30 Sunday afternoon when they finally arrived at Panguitch, finishing the last 65 miles by car. They found that young Tilsy had died at 8:30 Sunday morning.

Larry Vercellotti suffered a broken jaw, cuts and bruises. He returned by plane yesterday with his father and was taken to St. Joseph hospital in Joliet.

William Tilsy's body was flown back, arriving at the Schmaedeke funeral home yesterday. Friends may call there this afternoon and evening.

Besides his mother and stepfather, William is survived by his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brier, of Homer. His father, Harold Tilsy, died when William was a year old.

William was employed at the Ford plant at Chicago Heights and young Vercellotti is employed in the Electro-Motive plant at LaGrange.

A tornado ripped thru Tinley Park Monday afternoon, injuring four persons, demolishing five houses, damaging 50 others and leaving the stricken section without telephones, gas or electricity for many hours. Approximately 125 persons were left homeless.

The damage was placed at $200,000, according to estimates made to Chief of Police Harold Moore, who was in charge of the rescue work.

The devastating storm was described by the weather bureau as a "small tornado." But it was big enough for those who experienced its violence.

It was a freak of the meteorological world. There were two funnel shape clouds and it came from the wrong direction!

Tornadoes usually follow a southwest-northeast course—coming in from the southwest. The one that struck Tinley Park came out of the northeast and went southwest.

It ripped a path half a block wide and about eight blocks in length but following the usual nature of such storms it did not pursue a steady course, scraping the ground all the way. Rather it lifted and lowered so here a house was demolished while the one next to it was spared.

Heaviest damage was reported along 71st Ct. in the 173rd and 174th blocks. The clouds descended to the ground in the vicinity of 171st st. and finally lifted around 183rd st.

Edward Prospero, operator of the Prospero Flying Service at 180th st. and Oak Park ave., ascended in a plane when he saw the storm hit and attempted to follow it but after a few miles it disappeared.

The tail-end of the storm also hit Monee, bringing down the chimney at the state police weighing station at the junction of Routes 50 and 54 and picking up a panel truck that was traveling along the highway and tossing it into a cornfield, where it overturned. The driver, James Kuehnert, of Millrock, Ark.,

The pictures here show the center of destruction in the area struck by a tornado in the southwest section of Tinley Park last Thursday afternoon. In the picture above one sees the four homes that were practically leveled by the wind on 71st Ct. The twister confined itself to the east side of the street and cut a patch approximately half a block wide. Unlike most tornadoes it came from the northeast instead of the southwest. In the picture at the left one has a closer look at the damage. This picture was taken at the rear of the wrecked homes, looking south. More pictures will be found inside. (Times Photo) was shaken up but escaped serious injury.

PLACE DAMAGE—

The tornado hit Tinley about 3:50 p.m., accompanied by a torrential rain. There were many homes that had to cope with water in other sections of the town and while there were strong winds in all sections many of the townspeople did not know there had been a tornado until after the storm was over.

A subscriber called the Tinley Park Times offices to report that a funnel-shape cloud was swinging south along Oak Park avenue and suggested that there might be time to get a picture. No such cloud was discernible at that moment from the Times office, it apparently having turned more to the west and at that moment had probably dropped to the ground near 171st st.

Orland Park did not have a tornado but there were violent winds there and terrific rain. A large tree crashed down and damaged the front of the building housing Roy Loebe's real estate office. There were other trees and tree limbs blown down around that village but no one was reported injured.

At Tinley Park three children were injured but did not require hospitalization, Tommie Kelley, 7, his sister Karen, about 3 and 8-month-old Robert Jamie, Jr.

Also injured, but not hospitalized, was Mrs. Barbara MacPherson, who was here on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Howie, 17421 71st st. Mrs. MacPherson is an expectant mother.

George Palmer, 29, of 17359 71st Ct., who works nights, was asleep when his wife, Geraldine, 25, and their daughter, Patricia, 4, came running into the bedroom, calling out that a tornado was coming. Palmer jumped out of bed and instructing his wife and daughter to lie on the floor he covered them with his body. At that moment the roof blew off and the whole house became filled with flying debris. When a lull came the Palmers scrambled out of door and stood in the pouring rain.

The Allen Miller home next door at 17365 71st Ct., was also leveled by the wind that also flattened the next two neighboring houses, the William Nagel home at 17405 and the Thomas Kelley residence at 17409 71st Ct. The two Kelley children were trapped inside the ruins but were rescued by Edwin C. Suhs, operator of the Tinley Park Dairy, Louis Farone, of Calumet Park, an employee of the Tinley Park-Blue Island dairy and Kenneth Waldvogel, of Frankfort, a milk hauler for the company.

The three men saw the funnel clouds heading southwest as they stood in front of the dairy and when they saw it dip to the ground they jumped into a car and headed for the scene that they might be of assistance. They were the ones that broke thru the wreckage of the Kelley home and got the two youngsters out. The Kelley boy had a severe gash on one arm.

While the roof remained on the Howie home the interior was a shambles. The same thing occurred in other homes along the block. After leveling the Kelley home the tornado lifted but dropped again just south of the Rock Island railroad tracks, ripping off the roof at the Peter Feldner home on Hickory street, at Harlem ave. The Feldner home is of brick construction and the walls were undamaged as was a large picture window.

The homes along 71st Ct. were of frame.

Witnesses say the tornado appeared to divide after it hit Feldner's home and one of the funnels apparently dissolved.

Robert Bettenhausen, 24, of 17239 68th Ct., said the two funnels passed within 300 feet of him as he sat in a truck. Other witnesses told of seeing the two funnels swooping over as they were working in a field about two miles southwest of Frankfort.

The tornado held to the east side of 71st Ct., as it swept along damaging all the homes on that side in the 174th block, Including those of Carl Schmidt, 17433, Joseph Burian, 17439, Henry DeGroff, 17445, Ray LaFevre, 17451, James Biggs, 17455 and August Bonow, 17461.

American Red Cross of the Chicago chapter sent two staff members from headquarters to the scene. They were aided by eight volunteers from Tinley. One hundred and 20 persons who were temporarily homeless were fed by the Red Cross at the Tinley Methodist church. The Red Cross also supplied bedding and cots to accommodate 30 persons. All of the homeless were given shelter for the night by friends or relatives but in some instances they did not have extra beds or bedding and that is where the Red Cross came in. Arthur Ehrenstrom, from the Chicago chapter headquarters, was in charge.

The Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce launched a campaign early Friday morning for funds to aid those suffering losses.

Police Chief Harold Moore, Fire Chief Edmund Moss and Mayor Frank Jeffords took an active part in directing the rescue and rehabilitation work. Chief Moore was in charge of police and no one was allowed in the stricken area who did not live there or who had business there. Persons allowed in the area were furnished with passes.

Police and firemen, and fire equipment for use in rescue work, from many neighboring communities hurried to the scene. Firemen were there from Oak Lawn, Oak Forest, Park Forest, Markham, Midlothian, Chicago Ridge, Riverdale, Hazel Crest, Blue Island, Hometown Grand View, Columbus Manor and Palos Park. Police were on hand to aid from Midlothian, Oak Forest, Markham, Manhattan, Park Forest, Crestwood, Posen, Riverdale, Richton Park, Hazel Crest and state and Cook county police.

Mayor Daley of Chicago called Mayor Jeffords twice to offer any of the facilities of Chicago equipment or manpower to aid in cleaning up after the storm. Jefford thanked him—but reported they had the situation in hand.

National Tea Sales Continue To Show Gains

H. V. McNamara, president National Tea Co., announces continued increased sales for this midwest food chain, fifth largest in the nation, making new records in retailing history.

Sales for the four weeks ending Aug. 11, totaled $46,225,857, which is an increase of $4,139,763, and a gain of 9.84 per cent over the comparable four week period of 1955.

Consolidated sales for the National Tea Co. during the 32 weeks of the year to date totaled $373,387,540, which compares with sales of $342,424,004 for the corresponding weeks of last year, giving the company a gain in sales of $30,963,536, and an average gain of 9.04 per cent for 1956 to date.

At the time of this report, National Tea Co. was operating 753 stores in 14 states throughout the middle west, as compared to 717 stores at this time a year ago. The number of stores in operation does not accurately project the company's growth, inasmuch as a number of stores have been closed or relocated in line with the company's modernization and expansion plans. For the year thus far, National has opened 43 new supermarkets in its ten branches of operation, of which 36 are installations of new locations representing the company's expansion plans, and seven are relocations of former stores to offer expanded and more modern facilities.

About two-thirds of the company's stores are now air conditioned, and, according to McNamara, before another summer season approaches, air conditioning will be standard equipment in all National Food stores.

Prompted by a report of earnings for the first six periods of 1956, during which the company showed a net profit of 1.03 per cent of sales, National Tea Co. has embarked upon a new advertising campaign to dramatize its expanded and modernized food services, which are provided to the public at such a low per cent of the dollars spent in its stores. The advertising slogan "SERVING MILLIONS FOR A PENNY", is substantiated by the fact that the company is now serving over three millions patrons a week at a net profit of about one per cent. Thus the company has shared with its customers, as well as its shareholders the facts of life, while operating the fifth largest retailing food business in these United States, McNamara pointed out.

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. (1 Corinthians 10:12.)

Long, long ago, a friend asked an old man why he complained so much.

"Oh", said he, "I have every day so much to do. I have two falcons to tame, two hares to keep from running away, two hawks to manage, a serpent to control, a lion to chain, and a sick man to tend and wait upon."

Then said the friend, "But no man has all these things to do at once."

"Ah", corrected the old man. "But it is with me as I have said. The falcons are my two eyes, the two hares are my feet, the two hawks are my hands, the serpent is my tongue, the lion is my heart, and the sick man is my own body."

How true this complaining attitude is of too many of us today! Life is meant to be a loom where we weave the texture of our characters, a forge where we temper our wills, and a mart where we ourselves are best able to sell what we have made of ourselves.

PRAYER

O Father, we have no greater guide than Thee. Thou art the Creator of all life, of all love. Guide and bless us this day as we go forth to live. Help us to do as to the honor and glory of Thy name; through Christ. Amen.

Thought for the Day

"Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation." Henry H. Schooley (R. I.)

If you're building a new home this summer, plan ahead for next year's outdoor living by installing plenty of conveniently located weather-proof exterior outlets. You'll appreciate having them available for outdoor Christmas lighting as well as next season's garden and yard lighting.

If your garden boasts a cherished piece of sculpture, try featuring it as a point of interest this summer by lighting it. General Electric lighting experts suggest you highlight it from above with 150-watt spot and floodlamps. Place units in trees or on a building and aim the light on the statue. When light strikes the statue from above, as sunlight does, the shadow effect will be similar to that of daylight. If statue is wet, give it interesting highlights by placing floodlamps so light grazes surface.

Drive-in service stations were inaugurated in 1903. Today there are 250,000.

This charming pair of lovelies, Colleen (left) and Donna Wilson, are among the entertainers who will appear on the program at Tinley Park's annual Fall Festival this year. The girls, billed as the Beaver Valley Sweethearts, are rightfully fond of mountain music. Their home is in the Allegheny mts. of Pennsylvania. After winning a tri-state radio contest the girls appeared on other stations and when they were passing thru Chicago a few years ago Colleen and Donna were invited to appear on the WLS National Barn Dance show and were received so enthusiastically that the guest spot became a permanent spot and they became members of the WLS family. Colleen plays the git-tar and Donna the mandolin. Both play the bass fiddle and they can sing too.

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

Interest rates are now at the highest point they have reached in the past 25 years. This is due to the action of the Federal Reserve in tightening the "money market" against what they feel is another inflationary surge.

The cost of living in July reached its highest point and August index will likely show an added rise. At the same time the "take home" pay of the factory worker was at its highest point in July. Even the farmer is starting to get more money. Live stock analysts expect the biggest meat demand of all time in the next few months altho they do not expect any real shortages. Population estimates are now 168,300,000 and there are more people working than ever before.

Most people acquainted with the problems and actions of the Federal Reserve, believe they have done an excellent job under difficult circumstances. Management of the Federal Reserve are unfortunate in that inflationary pressures are coming at this time—just before a Presidential election. The "outs" will blame the "ins."

Fact is that inflationary trends cannot be curbed without hurting somebody or some segment of the economy.

The leaders of the large labor unions vie with one another to get higher and higher wages for their members. The steel workers have no doubt set the pattern. The aluminum workers are now getting a substantial raise. Many industries have a "cost of living" clause in their labor contracts and must now raise wages to meet the increase in living costs.

A great many people know that the Federal Reserve Board under congressional action in 1935, were given control of money and credit, but they do not consider the effects of the Full Employment Act of 1946. This Act directs the board of governors of the Federal Reserve to encourage and maintain a high level of wages and employment. Walter Reuther of the CIO Automobile Workers is generally credited with passage of the Full Employment Act which many economists believe makes inflationary pressures inevitable.

The workers of a particular industry may, thru wage increases, price themselves and their industry out of the market, but the Federal Reserve must by law, use its credit powers to insure a high level of economic activity. It must also be remembered that members of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve are politically appointed and regardless of their training and knowledge, cannot be entirely free of political pressures.

Corporations are finding that financing thru the sale of bonds is difficult and must carry a high interest rate. Many bond issues now sold, carry a feature of convertibility into common stock. Fixed dollar obligations are having a difficult time of it. Better grade common stocks are usually assumed to compensate market wise for the reduction in purchasing power of the dollar.

with him and then transfer to Cagwin's bus. The other two New Lenox routes will be the same as before. Weber will proceed east on Francis rd. to Mokena. His bus and another will serve Sunny Acres.

Joseph Kruzich will have his same two routes in Mokena, leaving the Conoco station at 7:30, the grade school at 7:35 and the post office at 7:38. Geo. Abraham, taking Ellerman's route, will begin pickups on Harlem ave. and then maintain the same time schedule as before. This route will be extended one mile into Marley from the east. He will pick up about half of the Sunny Acre students at 193rd and Wolf rd.

For Frankfort and Lincoln Estates, Burnett Schram and Mr. Kruzich will have the same routes and time schedules as last year. In Lincolnwood only the East and West Outer Circle drives will be used.

It was explained by school officials that bus passengers may expect some inconveniences this year because of the increase in enrollment. The school population is up by more than 100 but the district's finances do not permit the purchase of addition al buses this year. Last year Lincoln-Way transported an average of 418 students daily for a total cost of $16,345.46 or $39.04 per pupil. Of this amount the state paid $8,373.20 which left the district with $7,970.26 as its share. The average cost per pupil for transportation in the county was $49.79, substantially higher than that for Lincoln-Way.

Employment In July Sets New High in State

State labor director Roy Cummins says a July record was set for non-farm employment in spite of the steel strike and vacation lay-offs.

July employment was reported as 3,421,7000 workers.

Cummins explained a drop of 50,000 from mid-June was caused by vacation lay-offs, normal summer slack and the steel strike's effect on that industry and railroads serving the steel industry.

Nevertheless Cummins pointed out the July employment total for this year was 53-thousand higher than that for July last year.

Cummins said weekly earnings of Illinois factory workers rose to an average of $95.43 in June from $35.19 in May.

The work week continued to average 40.8 hours and the hourly wage average was unchanged at $2.09.

Cummins said the nationwide mid-June weekly wages averaged $79.40 with the hourly scale averaging $1.98 and the work week 40.1 hours.

Opening of School Increases Driving Hazards, Says Chief

With the opening of school next week, and the many children walking and boarding a bus, Police Chief Harold Moore again brings to attention the necessity for vigilance on the part of the motorist.

The Illinois State law definitely reads "all vehicle approaching as well as following a school bus must come to a halt while school bus is discharging passengers."

The known volume of oil underground today is more than a trillion gallons.

SIGHTSEERS. When this picture was taken there was a line of cars winding thru the Tinley storm area carrying persons who wanted to see at first hand just what damage was done. Chief of Police Harold Moore estimated that between 600 and 900 cars an hour passed thru the area Saturday and Sunday. (Times Photo)

George Palmer home at 17359 71st Ct. after the tornado passed. Mrs. Palmer, who is shown here, was standing across the room, at the extreme left of the photo when she saw the twister approaching and ran to rouse her husband, a night worker, who was asleep. The Palmers and their youngster escaped without being hurt but were almost frightened to death. Below is shown the remnants of the Thomas Kelley home at 17409 71st Ct.

WRECKED. These are the homes that bore the brunt of the tornado's fury at Tinley Park. At the top is what is left of the George Palmers residence at 17359 71st Ct. The wind swooped down on this house first, wrecked the next three houses south and then jumped south of the Rock Island railroad tracks where it whipped the roof from the Peter Feldner home. The second picture from the top shows the Allen Miller home at 17365 71st Ct.; the third picture down is that of the William Nagel home at 17405 and the fourth one is the Peter Feldner residence on Hickory st., near Harlem, south of the railroad tracks. The Thomas Kelley home at 17409 71st Ct., is not shown. The bottom picture is a view of 71st Ct. (Times Photo)

STORM VICTIMS. Mayor Frank Jeffords, of Tinley Park (left) is shown here as he was explaining to some of the storm victims what was being done to bring them aid. The picture was made only a short time after the tornado had passed. Some 120 persons were left temporarily homeless but friends and neighbors and village officials hastily organized aid for them, providing food and shelter. (Times Photo)

APPLY MOBILE POWER. When power lines were broken as a result of the tornado in Tinley last Thursday the village would have been without water but for the fact that a tractor was pressed into service to supply power for the pump. The tractor was furnished by Herbert Bettenhausen. (Times Photo)

Rich-Bremen 4-H'ers Win 4 of Top Prizes

Ten grand champions and the plowing contest winner were honored at ceremonies as the 10th annual South Cook 4H Fair finished its 3 day run in Chicago Heights.

It was estimated that 10,000 persons visited the Fair and 100 viewed the plowing contest. Inclement weather plagued the fair most of the weekend.

William F. Whiteside, Cook county assistant farm adviser, said the number of 4H exhibits was greater than last year and the quality of the project displays was a credit to all 4H members, their leaders, and parents and an accomplishment of which they can be justly proud.

Four of the 10 grand championships were awarded to members of the Rich-Bremen 4H club of Matteson. Members of the Tinley Hustlers took two grand championships, plus the plowing championship. Do-R-Best 4H club of Midlothian, the Worthwhile 4H club of Worth, the Orland Boys 4H club of Orland and the Rich Go Getters 4H club of Matteson garnered one championship trophy each.

Marjorie Piepenbrink of Rich Go Getters 4H club practically swept the sheep division with her well groomed Cheviots. She won four of the seven sheep classes as well as showing the grand champion in the sheep division. Other youthful champions were Lawrence Lauffer, Mokena, in the dairy division with a Holstein senior calf; Leslie Warning, Worth, whose cucumbers were judged best in the Commercial Garden division; Kenneth Uthe, Midlothian, with his Home Garden display; LeRoy Bormet, Orland Park, with a Duroc litter; Allen Schultz, Tinley Park, in the Rabbit division with a Champagne DeArgent doe; Edwin Gierke in the poultry division with a pen of three pullets; Harold Stuenkel, Matteson, swept top honors in the beef division with his 1,050 pound Angus steer; Robert Kohl, Matteson, had the Grand Champion crops exhibit and Willard Meyer, Tinley Park, was judged best Dairy showman of the Fair.

Top winners in the Plowing Contest were Edward Siemsen of Tinley Park, first; Willard Meyer of Tinley Park, second; Ronald Kollman of Harvey, third; and Warren Schultz of Tinley Park, fourth. There were 15 plowmen in the contest.

Ronald Kollman along with Aldrey Mascitti of Steger, reigned over the 3 day Fair. They were crowned King and Queen by William F. Whiteside, Cook county Assistant Farm Advisor, Carl F. Mees, Farm Adviser and Walter Kuras, Commander Elect of the Chicago Heights American Legion Post 131, at ceremonies on Saturday evening.

Along with presentation of gold inscribed cups on Sunday evening, visitors were entertained by the Chicago Heights Kiwanis Chorus, Garetto Twins Accordion School and the Rich-Go Getters 4H club.

Tinley Gals Win Softball Title

Defeats Kankakee to Clinch Flag; Will Play at Festival

The Tinley Park Girls softball team captured the South Suburban League title on Wednesday night last week at Memorial park by whipping Kankakee 13-10. This was the girls' ninth win in ten league games and gives them a two game lead with one game to be played.

Tinley took an early two-run lead in the first inning when Judy Gray connected for her fifth home run of the season with a runner on base, only to have the count tied in the second when three walks and an error gave Kankakee two runs.

Tinley came back with a run then went behind when Kankakee on two hits in the second and scored four times in the fourth on an error, one hit and four walks. Tinley pushed across three runs in the fourth to make it six-all and Micky Yunker held Kankakee scoreless in the fifth. Tinley came thru in that inning with seven runs to take a big lead. Kankakee scored three times in the sixth on two hits and four walks and had the bases loaded with one out when Georgette Zirbes released Micky Yunker and put out the fire. This was Micky Yunker's eighth win of the year against one loss. Shirley Kaneversky had a triple, a double and two singles in four times at bat to lead Tinley in the hitting department.

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 2 at the Fall festival, The Tinley Teen Girls will play a first class team from Miller Beach Ind.

Two Mokena Girls Win Prizes in Fishing Derby

Two Mokena girls, Karen, 12, and Carole, 13, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Egness of Sunny Acres, won first and second prizes respectively in the girls' division of the fishing derby conducted last Saturday, Aug. 25, by the Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Karen won first prize, a complete fishing outfit, rod, reel, lures and line, for catching the longest fish of any of the girls—a bluegill that measured an even seven inches. Carole's catch, was a 6½ bluegill and her prize was a tackle box. It was a great thrill for the girls. Both girls like to fish and take advantage of every opportunity to enjoy this pastime.

Mokena Small Fry Places 2nd In Tournament at Plainfield

The Mokena Small Fry baseball team ended their season this week by capturing the second place trophy in the very strong Plainfield invitational tournament. Yorkville won the championship by downing Mokena 6 to 5 in as exciting an extra inning game as any two major league teams could produce. The game went three innings beyond the regulation 6 inning before Yorkville managed to score the deciding run in the bottom of the ninth.

An infield hit and a solid line drive put Yorkville runners on second and third with no one out. The next man was given an intentional walk to fill the bases for a force play at the plate. The strategy backfired when Joe Johnson walked the following hitter and forced in the winning run.

Mokena scored in the first inning on Kruzich's walk and a double by Johnson. Yorkville scored twice in the third on a walk, single and two infield outs. The score became 5 to 1 in the fourth on a walk, an error, a single, double and wild pitch.

The cause appeared lost as Mokena batted for their last chance in the sixth. Things looked darker when Don Nieman struck out to lead off. Jerry Sayers bunted and was out but the first baseman dropped the ball. Muehler walked and Kruzich singled driving in Sayers. Johnson forced Kruzich at second and Muehler scored. Yunker singled, sending Johnson to third. Batten then drove a hard drive off the shortstop's glove and by the time the ball was recovered both Johnson and Yunker scored to tie the score. Batten was out at second on the same play to end the inning. Mokena threatened in each of the extra innings and left 5 men on base, but they never could muster the punch to push across another run.

Kruzich was Mokena's starting pitcher and was excellent after his bad fourth inning. He was replaced by Johnson after pitching 7 innings because of tournament rules. Johnson retired Yorkville in order in the 8th but became the losing pitcher in the ninth.

Mokena fought their way to the championship game behind the superb pitching of Ronnie Yunker. The first round game was won from Oswego 2 to 1 in seven innings. Yunker struck out 15 batters. He followed this performance with a no hit game against Plainfield. The score was 6 to 1. Yunker added 12 strike outs to make a total of 28 in two games. He allowed only 2 hits and no earned runs in the tournament to establish himself as the top pitcher. Mokena played through the entire tournament with only nine boys on the roster, a handicap that didn't seem to bother them.

Other teams in the tournament were: Orland Park, third place; Plainfield, fourth; and New Lenox, Dwight, Oswego and Tinley Park all of whom were eliminated.

Members of the Mokena team are Ronnie Yunker, Joe Johnson, Paul Brown and Joe Kruzich who pitch but also play other positions; Jerry Sayers, second base; Mark Muehler, center field; Don Nieman, right field; Ronnie Batten, catcher; Donald Alexander, Ronnie Teague and Gerald Daughterty, outfielders. A couple of boys were unable to compete in the tournament so Jim Wrath, who manages the Mokena outfit had what could be called a thin bench. The teams Mokena played were made up of star players in the different communities that have Small Fry leagues.

The first oil pipe line was of wood construction, five miles long, and had a capacity of 800 barrels daily.

Tigers Drop League Game to Cal Park 5-1

On Sunday, Aug. 19, the Tinley Tigers suffered their third defeat in conference play when they lost to Cal Park 5-1. As far as the hitting went for each team it could have been called a good pitcher's duel, and it was, except for the fact that the Tigers committed 7 errors to their opponents 0.

Cal Park jumped off to an early 1-0 lead on two Tigers errors and one hit in the first inning. They added another run in the 3rd on two hits and a Tiger error. Their last scoring occurred in the sixth when two errors again set up a scoring play. With two men on base, their centerfielder, Lipinski belted the ball over the left field fence for a home run.

The Tigers had the possibility of a scoring situation in the first inning. With two out Paul Ebeling walked and moved to third on Les Beccue's hit-and-run hit to right. However, he was thrown out attempting to steal second. Their only run of the game came in the fourth on Paul Ebeling's blast over the left field fence, his second of the season.

The following Sunday, Aug. 26, proved to be more fruitful than the game of the 19th. Tinley was hosted by the Lincoln A.C.'s of Chicago Heights and came home with a 5-3 win. This was their final South Suburban league game of the season and with this win, boosted their conference record to 5 wins and 3 losses for the second round of play.

The Lincolns scored first by collecting two runs on 3 hits in the second inning. Tinley tied the score in the third. Dean Taylor opened the third with a single. George Sedlacek sacrificed Taylor to second where he scored on a hit by Harnack. A walk by Dan Anfield and a single by Ebeling scored Harnack.

The score remained tied until the Tiger 5th. Sedlacek, Harnack, and Anfield, the first three Tiger

Tattersall Seeks Second Championship

Pace-setting Bob Tattersall will be out to cinch his second straight track championship with a fifth feature victory in the midget auto races Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Tattersall, the Streator veteran who owns most of the Joliet track records, will be gunning for his second consecutive main event triumph. Earlier this season he won three in a row which, with last week's victory, gives him four and the distinction of being the track's "winningest" pilot.

Among Tattersall's records are four straight feature victories in 1955, when he won his first track title; and a time of 16:37.38 in a 50 lap main event earlier this year. If he wins the track title this summer, he'll be the first to take the honors twice.

Leading drivers out to stop Tattersall Saturday will be six former feature winners: Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, Ill., Johnny Meyers of Chicago, Johnny Riva of Morton Grove, George Sallery of Chicago, Ken Rubright of Lyndon and Tony Saylor, Joliet.

batters walked Sedlacek, scored on Beccue's bloop single to left and Harnack, holding up to see if the ball would be caught was forced at third on a quick throw back to the infield.

The Lincoln's scored one more run in the sixth on a walk and a double. Tinley came back with two in the seventh. Ebeling was hit with a pitch ball. In attempt to steal second, the catcher threw the ball into center field and Ebeling continued on to third. He then scored on a wild pitch. Beccue walked and stole second. He scored on Don Kuech's single.

Although the regular season has now ended the Tigers will continue to play a few games with various teams in the area. Next Sunday, Sept. 2, the Tigers are billed to play the Stanfa Tires at 2:00. Their field is located at 149th and Ashland.

ORLAND PARK L. L. THIRD IN TOURNAMENT PLAY

The Orland Park Little League, one of eight teams invited to play in the Plainfield Invitational tournament, won the third place trophy which will be displayed in turn in all the business establishments in Orland.

Plan Discussions of Problems In Setting Up Farmers Estates

A series of meetings to answer in charge of the program for questions on the problems of the Association.

Some 59 county farm bureau organizations will sponsor meetings on estate planning, Merker said. The IAA is the statewide farm bureau organizations. The meetings will be held Dec. 4, 5, and 6.

At the session Merker explained, prominent lawyers will lecture on the problems of estate planning and then answer farmers' questions on the subject. The attorneys will be selected by the Illinois State Bar Association.

On Nov. 2-3, the U. of I. college of law, will hold a course in estate planning aimed at farmers' problems. This to George E. Merker, Jr., IAA will give lawyers latest information on planning estates for rural residents, Merker said.

Farmers attending the county meetings also will be given a handbook on estate planning, he stated. The booklet written by Prof. J. Nelson Young, U. of I. college of law, is being published by the IAA, Bar Association, and college of law.

"Farmers will want to attend these meetings," Merker urged. "They'll get the facts on a vital subject."

Judge Believes Ban on Filth is Legally O.K.

Paulist Feature Service
By Hon. Charles S. Desmond

In 1954 a New York State committee displayed a collection of so-called "comic books." These wildly lurid picture stories opened our eyes to a serious public evil. How could we keep the lurid pictures and filthy literature from reaching our newsstands?

The only effective way to keep obscenity from reaching the public is by some kind of restraint. Yet printers and distributors of filth resist restraint under the "freedom of the press" guarantee in our Constitution. The U. S. Supreme Court has never given a flat "yes" or "no" to the question whether we can stop obscene matter from reaching the newsstands.

Legal thinkers take opposing views. One group says that our Founding Fathers wanted all prior restraint to be unconstitutional. But it seems to me that if our Founding Fathers gave the government the power to protect its citizens from poison food harmful to the body, certainly it can protect its citizens from poisonous literature harmful to the mind.

Obscenity Great Coil

The other group, and I include myself among them, argues that prior restraint of obscene literature is not offensive to the historic American tradition of freedom of publication.

Our Founding Fathers were fearful only of the existence of a governmental power which might choke off political criticism and the freedom to express opinion.

The supreme court in the Zorach case said, "We are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a Supreme Being." Our legislators have always had respect for God's moral law. Our government has from its first days excluded from the mails matter injurious to public morals. U. S. Customs laws as well authorize the banning of obscene books.

After all, isn't it a prime and proper function of government to protect its citizens against pollution and harm from physical objects, against poisons and dangerous and offensive nuisances? I have never understood how similar protection against filthy books could be unconstitutional.

In 1874 Justice Swane of the U. S. supreme court said, "The foundation of a republic is the virtue of its citizens." Today obscenity is a serious public evil undermining the virtue of young and old alike. When obscenity requires effective control, and such control is consistent with our American heritage, I see no reason why democratic government should not use democratic processes to eliminate obscenity.

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

Winds during last week have taken their toll of broken stalks in corn borer infested corn fields. Many farmers are going to have a difficult time during corn picking season. We can also expect many bean fields next year with volunteer corn. It is becoming more and more apparent that grain farmers must concentrate efforts to control corn borer. On fields where DDT granules were used a nearly complete kill of borers was effected. Good management practices such as stock chopping and plowing plus delayed planting help to reduce borer population.

I would caution you not to use DDT sprayed corn for silage. Although it may not harm the animals, they store DDT in their tissues and the meat or milk will contain DDT. This presents a public health problem. Caution should be exercised in the use of all chemicals and insecticides.

The USDA may have reached an important milestone in control of the common cattle grub. This pest costs the livestock industry nearly 100 million dollars each year in losses of meat and milk and damage to hides. Research has uncovered a chemical which, when fed to the animal, moves thru the body tissues killing the grubs wherever they occur. If practical, this discovery is very valuable to all livestock men.

How do you buy sweet corn? Do you pick up an ear, pull back the husks and then throw it back into the basket or bin if it isn't exactly to your liking? I hope you're not guilty because, if you use this method, you're spoiling the corn for the next customer and you're causing your grocer to loose money.

Let's play fair. We can come home from market with quality corn if we use three easy tricks. Select corn that has crisp green husks. Yellow or whitish husks are an indication that the corn is old or over-mature. Be sure the husks are firmly wrapped around the ear to form a tight package. Be sure the silk is dark brown and moist.

On old, poor quality corn, the silk is dry or matted and crumbles at the slightest touch. Or sometimes there is no silk at all. Remember, it is not necessary to rip open every ear of corn to check quality.

Don't forget Dairy day at the University of Illinois Sept. 6. The results of a study comparing pasture grazing with green chopping will be announced. This is of interest to most dairymen.

I accompanied several 4H boys to Urbana to take part in the 4H judging contest. Their placings have not been scored as yet and the boys are anxiously awaiting the results. Bill Lorenz of Chicago Heights and Richard Wille of Tinley Park judged in the vegetable division. Willard Meyer of Tinley Park, Ronald Kallman of Harvey and Darrell Erickson of Mokena placed the dairy animals and Leslie Kohl of Matteson judged in the beef, swine and sheep division. Members of the University of Illinois faculty gave reasons for the official placings to give the boys training in observing the characteristics of class.

Fresh tomatoes are in season now. These field ripened tomatoes are low priced, fine in flavor, and rich in Vitamin C. When buying, select firm, smooth skinned specimens, that are free of blemishes. When you buy in quantity sort tomatoes carefully. Put fully ripe tomatoes in the refrigerator. Those that need to be ripened should be kept at 60 to 70 degrees and out of direct sunlight.

Norm Oebker, University of Illinois Vegetable Crops specialist, reports good attendance at the recent Illinois Vegetable Field day at Urbana. He also says that the 1957 Field Day will be held in South Cook county. I cannot think of a more appropriate place, can you?

Ivory-Billed Woodpecker Is Kingsize Member of Its Family

The ivory-billed woodpecker was never a common bird, but it has long been famous. Its large size and imposing appearance captured the imagination of both Indians and early naturalists. It is the largest woodpecker in North America, larger than a crow.

The male ivory bill's shining black and white plumage, scarlet crest, and large white bill combine with its vigorous and graceful actions and far-carrying voice to impress any observer. It differs from its relative, the pileated woodpecker, in being larger showing more white in its plumage, especially on the back when perched, and the voice sounding like a nasal tin trumpet.

Ivory-billed woodpeckers originally lived in the swamps of the southeastern states. From southeastern North Carolina to eastern Texas they inhabited the large river swamps along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, living in forests of oak, gum, and other hardwoods and cypress. In the Mississippi bottomlands they extended northward at least to the mouth of the Ohio, preferring the first bottom forest of sweet gum, oaks and ash. Thru out Florida they inhabited cypress swamps, frequently moving into the surrounding pine woods for feeding.

Ivory-billed woodpeckers' habitats are also the favored homes of other kinds of woodpeckers, which are more abundant in these forested swamps than in upland forests swamps than in upland forests. To illustrate this, a tract of 6 square miles can be cited which supported one pair of ivory-bills in addition to an estimated 36 pairs of pileated and 126 pairs of red-bellied woodpeckers.

Ivory-bills feed upon wood-boring insects, particularly those kinds that live in the inner bark and between the bark and sapwood of trees or limbs not too long dead. The bark in this stage is still hard and tight, but the big woodpeckers hack and scale it loose by powerful side blows with their bills. This manner of feeding leaves characteristic signs—bare and barkless areas on dead limbs and trunks of trees too sound to be attacked by the same way by lesser woodpeckers.

The preferred insect foods are often very abundant, but they are present for a relatively short time, disappearing when the bark loosens in the process of decay. Thus, the ivory-bills' food is likely to be irregularly distributed, varying from place to place and from time to time. To find an adequate supply they range farther and require more area than do other woodpeckers.

Ivory-bills nest in cavities they dig in trees. From one to four eggs, two being usual, are laid in early spring. Both parents incubate the eggs and care for the young. One brood is raised each year.

Ivory-bills began to disappear from their original range as soon as loggers invaded the southern swamps. In several instances the disappearance of the woodpeckers coincided with the cutting of the forests. The real cause was probably the indirect destruction of their food supply, for the young trees left in a cut-over forest provide much less food for woodpeckers than do the mature trees of a virgin or old forest. After such a forest has been cut, the different kinds of woodpeckers may maintain their status for about two years, then they decrease markedly in numbers. The ivory-bills, with their specific food requirements, were the first to go, and the ones which were lost permanently from the cut-over swamps.

By 1885 the birds had disappeared from the northern part of their original range. The greatest decrease occurred between 1885 and 1900 when the southern logging industry grew most rapidly. By 1915 the species was confined to about a dozen scattered localities in South Carolina, Louisiana, and especially Florida. By 1926 many naturalists believed that the ivory-billed woodpecker was extinct. But a few years later some were found living in the Singer Tract in northern Louisiana, and then some were seen in the Santee River swamp of South Carolina. An intensive study of the species was carried on in the years 1937-39, at the end of which ivory-bills were believed to be living in those two localities plus about three areas in Florida. Since then, however, there have been no reports from the Santee River. The Singer Tract in Louisiana, where ivory-bills were best known and where practically all of the life history studies were performed, was cut over during World War II. Apparently the last bird to be seen there was a lone female observed in January 1944. The only recent reliable reports of this bird have come from northern Florida, but there have been no authentic reports since 1952.

Ivory-billed woodpeckers were originally most abundant, judging from a study of all the old records, in the area between the Suwanne and Apalachicola Rivers of northern Florida, where the flat pine woods are intersected and dotted with many ewamps. This great woodpecker may now be making its last stand in the region that even years ago was the center of its abundance.

A program for the conservation of the ivory-billed woodpecker must include the following:

1. Determination of the location and range of surviving individuals.

2. Protection of the survivors of the species from hunting by curious gunners who might be the final cause of extinction.

3. Management of the forests so as to maintain an abundant food supply for woodpeckers. This can be done in different ways, depending on whether the area must be managed for timber yield or whether it can be maintained as a sanctuary for ivory-billed woodpeckers and other animals native to these swampy wildernesses.

Conservationists must take the initiative in working out solutions to some of the complex social and economic problems that are involved in the restoration of the ivory-bill through management of its timber-producing habitats. Their success or failure will determine the fate of this bird.

The National Wildlife Federation called attention to the plight of the ivory-billed woodpecker last March during National Wildlife Week. This is a part of its continuing program for the protection of wildlife and other natural resources which you learn more about by writing office at 232 Carroll Street, Washington 12, D. C.
